

Armand Van Helden, Sugar

Listen sugar, it's cold
I know you ain't capable
Listen honey, I ain't mad
I know you ain't stable
Let the matter shit, I'm used to it.
Bitches like you pulling tricks.
Just steal your tongue cause it's saying shit.
I guess that I might feel it's quit.
And you leave me no option but, to turn and hurt you because I prefer to avoid trouble
It's just so time consuming.
I prefer to avoid trauma.
It's just so time consuming.
Listen sugar, it's cold.
I know you ain't capable.
Listen honey, I ain't mad.
I know you ain't stable.
Listen sugar, it's cold.
I know you're not capable.
Listen honey, I ain't mad.
I know you ain't stable.
How much times at a day comes to I don't wanna play.
Always get you want and I don't get a say.
You think that you own it well you can have it and keep it
I just don't wanna hear 'bout how you know that I need it.
Well fine, fine baby, now I ain't got the time, time baby.
Cause someday you'll prefer to avoid trouble.
It's just so time consuming.
I prefer to avoid trauma.
It's just so damn time consuming.
Listen sugar, it's cold.
I know you ain't capable.
Listen honey, I ain't mad.
I know you ain't stable.
Listen sugar, it's cold.
I know you're not capable.
Listen honey, I ain't mad.
I know you ain't stable.
No they never found where the slickin' club is, did they tell her ? (Fade-In, Repeated numerous times)
No they never
