

Armin Van Buuren, Therapy (feat. James Newman)

I can't dance cause my feet won't let me and I can't love cause my heart won't let go I can't tell no one, the way I really feel cause I don't feel nothing no more and I can't hear

to remember
what it's like to hold someone and then I saw you dancing on your own and you look like therapy, exactly what I need you're where the darkness meets the light the perfect remedy to hear; this hurt in me come be the therapy for me and me for you tonight

I can tell by the way that you move there's a cure for me somewhere in you your touch your kiss and your body next to mine I just want a bit of your time and I can't hear

to remember
what it's like to hold someone
and then I saw you dancing on your own and

you look like therapy, exactly what I need
you're where the darkness meets the light
the perfect remedy to hear; this hurt in me
come be the therapy for me
and me for you tonight