

Army Of Me, 2 Into 1

I know it sounds foolish
But I'm still in hope
That one day all of my friends could be whole
For now you are broken and feel so unsure
Wherever we are, we can't go back to where we were

And I want to fly straight into the sun
I want to burn the two into one

I know it sounds foolish, but I'm still in love
Although I surrendered I've not given up
So if there is something that's making you stay
I'm standing right here I won't walk away

And I want to fly into the sun
I want to burn the two into one

And I've forgiven you
It's all I can do
It seems you have no choice when you love someone

I want you to know, you're whiter than snow
I want you to see, to forgive is to breathe
And it's something you need
Forget what you've done
I want to burn the two into one

Two into one, two into one, yes
Two into, two into one
