

Asaf Avidan, Earth Odyssey

wake up from your sleep take a deep breath and let it all out tear away your dream by the seams and throw them about fall back you your corner it's over the game was rigged from the start hold youe body embrance it
and taste it
as it's falling apart

something out of nothing still amounts to nothing – at all oh no you're not that strong
let's run and run , and tun, and run

get down from your feet take a seat and watch it to go by spend away your years theough your fears and let it all fly
