Asaf Avidan, Her Lies

She said "baby, get down on your knees" I said "babe if you insist" She said "why do you keep seeing things you know that don't exist" I said "baby, I love you, now what can I do, I'll probably love you till the day I die" She said "well pretty honey, if that's true than give me both them, pretty eyes"

I said "baby, you can have them - you can have my eyes" See I was thinking if she took them I won't see her lies But my baby ? I can taste her lies.

She said "baby, get into this sack" I said "baby, I don't know what's there" She said "all I want to do with you Is take you with me everywhere"

I said "okay, baby take me everywhere, Take me through the day, take me through the night" She said "oh silly babe, don't you kid with me, You know I really don't have the time".

Still I said "baby, you can take me" ? and I got right in
See, I was thinking if she took me, I could taste her skin
But my baby, all I taste is her lies.
Oh my baby, all I taste is her lies,
Oh my honey, all I taste is her lies.

I said "baby, you can have them - you can have my eyes" See I was thinking if she took them I won't see her lies But my baby ? I can taste her lies. Oh my baby, Oh my honey, Oh my baby

Oh my baby, I can taste? Her lies
