

Ashley Roberts, Yesterday and i?m a broken heart in the middle of the boulevard in a house on fire dancing in the dark

seen it your way love be afraid and i?m fighting the future while i?m tracking the inner peace have no one to believe in i can?t stop this bleeding

i?m falling down
and i know i would beat this
if i didn?t need it
where are you now

?cause i?m still late , late
it?s too late, it?s too late i?m still late, late

and i?m a rollercoaster trying to be the queen of hearts and i wish on a spotlight and pretend it is a star start to break it down when i crawl ease the ground like a wounded soldier

no one to believe in

i?m a broken heart
