

Avail, Beliefs Pile

to be the one to swallow my pride i'll try but make no promises and before i go off to collect myself to be the one to swallow my pride i'll try and make no promises i'll wash myself of that feeling while while there's time my goal is to gain the courage and smile for a while if i'm the first to open my arms and try well i've done mine i have no regrets i wasn't forced into this to be the one to laugh at my pride i'll try and make no promises i'll wash myself of that feeling while
