

Avril Lavigne, Just words

you need to understand,
I need to tell you.
All the times i had the chance,
I let them pass by,
I never knew, till it was too late,
I didn't think it would be this way.
I'm here with all the guilt, and everything to say.
I didn't appreciate you,
I took it for granted, just like I always do.
I'm standing all alone,
at the end of the line, paying no mind...
It happened once, it happened again.

Chorus

try as I might, I could never explain,
when I see you, when I hear your name,
memory gained, bringing it all back. (X2)
so much pain, driving me insane.
I got it wrong,
thinking you were easy,
not listening when they told me.
I swore I had you, I thought I could never lose,
too much damage, so many lies, promises broken,
everything can't be forgotten..the truth is,
I used you, I didn't realize.
Now it's too late, I'm sorry
so much left I need to say.

Chorus

try as I might, I could never explain,
when I see you, when I hear your name,
memory gained, bringing it all back. (X2)
so much pain, driving me insane.
I want you to want me
