

Axxis, Get Down

My name is the devil
I'm playing a game
With what you call mankind
But now things have changed
Your good and my evil
Have covered the world each day
It was to be a never-ending fight
But look at the world today
Forget your hostility
Join together with me
Now it's time for a fight against
The people - we see
Get down - from the throne in the light
Get down - to stay right by my side
The good old times are gone
When we used to live in their hearts
But they've forgotten their beliefs
They live in a house of cards
I've always trusted in our might
That I'm the dark and you're the light
I see their future - you see it too
Oh god, oh god, what will we do
Get down - from the throne in the light
Get down - to stay right by my side
