

Baal, Hey Hey Hey

Artist Name: Baal

Album Name:

Song Name: Hey Hey Hey

you're burning candles to pay your respect you're sending chain mails with a best wish attached you're dreaming democracy's great pure perfection
you separate the poor from the rich you're building walls to protect you do it again and again it's a free world
you jump to conclusions you have the solutions to the troubles you made while bushes are burning you're the rulers of the world pretenders of the state
you're the leading stars on stage in this western masquerade you wash away the sins of today throwing lifebelts to a crowd that don't cheer you live in the glasshouse contend you're defending use fright as a reason to justify your 20th. century crusade
