

Backlash, Heal

Remember the days when I couldn't see the colours and I used to pray but I couldn't hear my mind speak an everlasting moment of purity where the silence sings for you and me

Healed by the hands of love feels like I'm the sky above never want to return
your footprints direct my heart to a place where things won't fall apart we'll never stop to burn

As I open my eyes you're slipping away from this world and I realise there's nothing left to lose now

Healed by the hand of love feels like I'm in the sky above
