

Bad Company, Brokenhearted

Yeah, you've been living in a world of fiction
You can't see who's wrong, no
You've been living in the past, it's a contradiction
And this can't carry on
When I get lonely, you will too
You better face the fact
That no one'll come want you, baby
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, I welcome you, yeah
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, I welcome you, yeah
You've been heading down the road to nowhere
And you don't know the way
There used to be a time, I'd be there
But now I've got no need to stay
So take a look around you, remember who you are
You know you had your chance
But now you've pushed in way too far
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, I welcome you, yeah
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, I welcome you, yeah
I know you know what it feels like
To have friends that tell you wrong
When you come running to me, yeah
You'll find that I can be so strong, yeah
You've been living in a dream, it's ending
So open up your eyes
You've been living out a lie, yeah, pretending
Fooling yourself and you don't know why
When you get lonely, when you get down
You better face the fact
That I won't be around, baby
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, I welcome you, yeah
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, I welcome you, yeah
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, yeah, I welcome you
(Welcome to)
Better get, better get, better get ready
I welcome you to
(Welcome to)
Welcome, welcome to
I welcome you
(Welcome to)
The world of the brokenhearted, yeah
(Welcome to)
