

Badi, Twenty One

...let me just take a second to pause and reflect, check the cause and effect I find myself askin', how did this happen so fast, cant imagine, man I remember back when I thought knew the deal, but I didnt understand it was never in my plans to become a grown man hopped on a plane destination thailand where nobody was there to hold my hand and thats when I believe it started see I became part of a culture meanwhile my partner was guarding the scared gardens and it'll take that inspiration to create an artist and through the hardships, I grew regardless of how much I was still stuck in the ways on the sidewalk some duckin' the strays some repeating the mistakes their own parents made CHORUS:

look kid you don't even know the half true, but its you I will outlast I'ma be around to see what's to come cause at twenty-one i've only just begun Im told
cause at twenty-one i've only just begun twenty one times around the sun take it in, I knew this day was bound to come illmatic had told me that the world was mine and I realized it was way before half-time listen... I've done what some couldn't given a chance all because of one women who taught me knowledge of self, always prayer books on the shelf for me to delve into myself trained my voice and my soul from an early age gave what I can take with me through the pearly gates fought for opportunities for me, mentored me even when it didn't make sense to me I never knew who to blame, see there's a lot more significance to the name because he once did the same so why would I bother to be anyone but Badí spiritual descendent of the Pride of the Martyrs

true, but its you I will outlast I'ma be around to see what's to come
cause at twenty-one i've only just begun
I'ma be around to see what's to come
cause at twenty-one i've only just begun
