

Baizura Ning, You Promised But You Lied

Baizura Ning

Always

You Promised But You Lied

Please don't leave me now with all this pain

Cause you're hurting me again and again

I close my eyes and dream away

Here in my heart there's an empty space

Where you used to be

Well I can't forget the day that you left me

When you walked out the door out of my life

Maybe I need a little love

For you it's just a game

You play...

Cause you...

For once you promised me but then you lied

You say...

You'll never ever leave and let love die

Come back (come back)

For all the love I've found in you

And made my lonely dreams come true

Say you'll stay but you go away

Baby, why did you let me know

But I'll watch where you go

Believing you'll someday come back to me... come back to me
