Bananarama, Aint No Cure

The story's the same Only the names have been changed When he broke your heart you said You'll never love again But you'll be back for more And you'll get hurt just like before 'Cause there ain't no cure for love Didn't they tell you, there ain't no remedy They can sell you, joy and pain It's the same as it ever was Don't think it over It's only just begun Learning to love again Is half the battle won But don't believe They'll ever be, immunity 'Cause there ain't no cure for love Didn't they tell you, there ain't no remedy They can sell you, joy and pain It's the same as it ever was 'Cause there ain't no cure for love Didn't they tell you, there ain't no remedy They can sell you, joy and pain It's the same as it ever was But you'll be back for more And you'll get hurt just like before 'Cause there ain't no cure for love Didn't they tell you, there ain't no remedy They can sell you, joy and pain It's the same as it ever was [Unverified]
