REF:

Heaven is where you want it.

Heaven is wherever you want it to be.

Looking for forgiveness, counting all the tears you cry.

Crossing all the rivers, you know what will happen now.

hiding all your fillings and your time is running out.

Your reflections rather thrilling, love is what life is about.

REF:

Heaven is where you want it.

Heaven is wherever you want it to be.

Make the best of moments, that you'd like to last and last.

Find your way and move on, never thinking' bout the past.

The world has been so tired of complaints and of regrets.

And the happiness you're seeking is in your own hands.

Heaven is where you want it.

Heaven is wherever you want it to be.

There are many reasons why you're so unssatisfied.

It's because the hope and will to change your life just died.

All you dream of gaining wish to have and wish to do.

All for which you're craving, all you become is up to you.
