

Bears, The, Dave

Bears, The
Car Caught Fire
Dave

He counted up his fears one day and they weren't worth a dime
He cried a lot of tears for her ncause he wasn't worth her time
And his life felt like a marathon - man, how long can this last?
He slowed down for a little drink and didn't see the winner pass
Last saturday morning we missed the warning
The pain got boring - his soul went soaring
She used to be too young to understand and now she's just too old
Can't shut the door on her regrets - she'll never be that cold
And i could have been a better friend - i can see where i went wrong
I hid beneath my selfishness like i hide behind this song
Last saturday morning we missed the warning
Nothing lasts forever ncept maybe jesus christ
And nothing could be sadder than a child taking his own life
I heard the minister mumble, i heard the falling rain
And i felt my mother's hand slip into mine
And none of us have ever been the same
