

Beatles, Another Beatles Christmas Record

(All): (Singing) Jingle bells...

(P): Hello, everybody, this is Paul, and I'd just like to thank you all for buying our records during the

(J): In the army, perhaps.

(P): Oh, we hope you've enjoyed listening to the records as much as we've enjoyed melting them -

(J): Yes, we are.

(P): We are indeed. I just thought I'd make that... This is the same studio we've used all along - since

(J): Ah, those were the days ...

(P): Well, that's about all, I think. Except, to wish you all a Happy Christmas and a very New Year!

(J): John. John speakin'. Thanks all of you who bought me book. Thank you folks for buying it. It was

(P): Did you write this yourself?

(J): No! It's somebody's bad handwriter. It's been a busy year Beatle peadles, one way and another

(G): Thank you John. Thank you. Hi there! I'd like to thank all of you for going to see the film. 'spect

(R): I did.

(G): Did you? So did I. Thanks anyway. 'Cause it makes us very pleased, ya know. We had a quiet

(J): Green.

(G): It'll be a big laugh we hope. (Ha ha ha!) Well, we ... Big laugh, ha ha ha, yeah, it'll be a big laugh

(J): Be a big laugh, you imagine?

(G): And we may see all of you soon. Hope so anyway. All the best. And, happy New Year. And a H

(R): Thanks, Geroge. Ringo here. Well, the others have thanked you for all the discs and John's bo

(P): And New Zealand.

(R): Ha ha! Or is that New Zealand?

(P): So much travelling! But you've stayed loyal, haven't you?

(R): Anyway, those airport receptions knocked us out, man, great!

(J): Dig!

(R): Well, that's about it from me. I'd just like to say, all the best for Christmas and happy new year.

(All) (Singing):

Oh, can you wash your father's shirt,
Can you wash it clean?

Oh, can you wash your father's shirt,
Can you wash it clean?

Oh, can you wash your father's shirt,
Can you wash it clean? Oo

Christmas! (Happy Christmas, everybody!)
Happy Christmas!

Happy Christmas!
Happy Christmas!
Happy Christmas! Yeah!

Happy Christmas!
Happy Christmas!

(J): Christmas!

(P): Happy Christmas!

(All): Happy Christmas! Happy Christmas! Christmas!
Happy Christmas!
