Before The Dawn, Savior

Cold days Cold words so fierce Violent statements Distort my ears

Black wall built by fear Retaliation starting to tear Piece by piece dismantle Two rules in my belief There are no signs or revelations There is no god

Last dawn of day brought only failures Another circle of the sun Not a chosen way Not amongst the saviors Rewind my trail until undone

Behold my court law
A judge with endless jurisdiction
I am the law
Sentenced behind the bars
In a hole
Down in the ground
With bleeding palms
With open arms
