

BEMY, 6 Seconds

I didn't know what I was thinking
Nights were long and days were shrinkin'
It was an innocent hug
She was on the cold side of the bed
While you were runnin' around in my head
I was an innocent hug

While you were far away
I got a little bit confused
I missed you everyday
And you

You stole my heart
From the start
It was only 6 seconds
Yeah I slipped up
Don't break up
I've been on the wrong side of lust
I just want affection just crave some attention
I'm loosin' my way
You are my star
I've gone too far
It was only 6 seconds

It was only 6 seconds

You're traveling the world playing those shows
While I stay at home my loneliness grows
It was an innocent hug
I'm a man in need of human warmth
While you're hiding high up in the stars
It was an innocent hug

While you were far away
I got a little bit confused
I missed you everyday
And you

You stole my heart
From the start
It was only 6 seconds
Yeah I slipped up
Don't break up
I've been on the wrong side of lust
I just want affection just crave some attention
I'm loosin' my way
You are my star
I've gone too far
It was only 6 seconds

It was only 6 seconds

I need you close
If not my heart will break
I know that yours will too
And I don't want something new coz I
I bow to make it through

You stole my heart
From the start
It was only 6 seconds
Yeah I slipped up
Don't break up

I just want affection just crave some attention
I'm loosin' my way
You are my star
I've gone too far
It was only 6 seconds

It was only 6 seconds
