Ben Folds, Video

barren stares as they light up the screen bearing teardrops that shatter in slow-motion, novocaine our brains and we're out like lights and as I'm growing older I'm bored and I remember when misery thrilled me much more when I can't relax and I'd like to go back but that's gone yeah, that's gone turn around turn the volume down we're counting the days down

'til the day
when we'll live in a video I'll be stone-faced and pale you'll pout in stereo 24 hours
every day of the year
and oh what fun
I can't wait 'til the future gets here closing in on the pain and the torture he's slamming the door like it's something to strive for the girl tearing curtains down looks funny as hell and a sense of humor, can there be any doubt? yeah, well, natural selection just weeded it out used to keep me from laughing out loud

but that's gone
we don't think that way no more that's gone
turn around
turn the volume down
we're counting the days down

when we'll live in a video
24 hours
every day of the year

well, I've seen some old friends sort of die or just turn into whatever must've been inside them (and whatever all of us had then in common) (grew up) and left home we don't think that way no more turn around turn the volume down we're counting the days down

'til the day
24 hours
every day of the year
and oh what fun
I can't wait 'til the future gets here
