

Beyoncé, Scared of Lonely

I'm in this fight, and I'm swinging
And my arms are getting tired
I'm trying to be this emptiness but I'm running out of time
I'm sinking in the sand , And I can't barely stand
I'm lost in this dream , I need you to hold me
I'm scared of lonely
I try to be patient, but I'm hurting deep inside
And I can't keep waiting, I need comfort late at night
And I can't find my way, won't you lead me home
Cause I'm lost in this dream, I need you to hold me
I'm scared of lonely

Chorus

And I'm scared of be the only
Shadow I see along a wall
And I'm scared of only heart beat
I hear a beating is my own
And I'm scared of been alone
I can't see the breath when I am lost
In this dream, I need you to hold me
I'm scared of lonely
I cry at night, 'cause my baby's too far, to be by my side
To wipe away these tears of mine, so I hold my pillow tight
To imagine you, I'll stretch your hand looking for mine
I'm lost in this dream , I need you to hold me
I'm scared of lonely

Chorus

I need your break when nobody is around
Cause I'm tired of this emptiness
I think I'm drowning
I can't be lonely
Cause I'm lost in this dream, I need you to hold me
I'm scared of lonely

Chorus
