

Biffy Clyro, Waiting For Green

I am waiting for an answer to, all the lies they told to try and spoil you

We were half a mile away from you, facing white, facing white

Can't have lost the sweetness of your heart

While waiting for green, waiting for green

I have grown up, you are grown and feeling stronger, feeling stronger

Memories fade but regrets just make them stay forever, last forever

I have grown up, you are grown and feeling stronger, feeling stronger

Memories fade but regrets just make them stay forever, last forever

Growing up, growing up, growing up, growing up, growing up, growing...

Everything you left me was the same as I can

Everything you wanted was the same as I can

Everything you needed was the same as I can