

Birdy, Open Your Heart

I feel so lost sometimes
Trying to read between the lies
I am waiting here for you
Giving it all
Try pick it through when you treading carefully
God in your heart
Hiding for me

But I'll never know
Never find who you are
If you don't open your heart to me
Let me in, let me try
Let me feel all your love
Open your heart to me

Who lives behind those eyes?
Your soul, unknown at times
Over and round we go
You leave me here
Fully exposed
Wondering how you feel
Living your life with a heart made of steel

But I'll never know
Never find who you are
If you don't open your heart to me
Let me in, let me try
Let me feel all your love
