

Birdy, Wild Horses

I'm a dreamer
But it's hard to sleep when your head's not in it
I've been restless
Cause you disappeared and that's all that's missing
The Earth is loose under my shoes
There's an Angel, and he's shaped like you, and I thought I knew him
There's a window and it's dark inside, but the light was in it
This can't be love if it hurts too much
I need to let go

I will survive and be the one who's stronger
I will not beg you to stay
I will move on and you should know I mean it
Wild horses run in me

I remember how we danced so close,
I was stand on your feet
And the phone calls
That would last all night, they were lifeboats to me
Our fading scars, just shooting stars
They're hidden, then go!

I will survive and be the one who's stronger
I will not beg you to stay
I will move on and you should know I mean it
Wild horses run in me

A human hearts, forgets how strong they are
And they get lost along the way,
It's not giving up, it's letting go
And moving to a better place

I will survive and be the one who's stronger
I will not beg you to stay
I will move on and you should know I mean it
Wild horses run in me
I will survive and be the one who's stronger
I will not beg you to stay
I will move on and you should know I mean it
Wild horses run in me
