

Blackfield, Jupiter

Once we were young We had no plans
What simplicity of love
We used to get it to get it all
We once get to fail and fall

Know all I can do Is to stand and watch
Those new boys in the game
How they're laughing and having fun
Making rules under the sun

I raw in her pretty eyes tonight
it's been so long since I played it right
I'll get to Jupiter and halfway back
Before she'll even notice I'm around

They used to call me A city queen
But now God's playing jokes on me
I'm all alone far from the city
I've got no room no time for dreams

I raw in her pretty eyes tonight
It's been so long since I played it right
I'll get to Jupiter and halfway back
Before she'll even notice I'm around

Once we were young We had no plans
What simplicity of love
We used to get it to get it all
We had no time to fail and fall

I raw in her pretty eyes tonight
It's been so long since I played it right
I'll get to Jupiter and halfway back
Before she'll even notice I'm around

Once we were young We had no plans
What simplicity of love
We used to get it to get it all
We once get to fail and fall

I'll get to Jupiter and halfway back
Before she'll even notice I'm around