

Blackmail, Everyone Safe

want you back, won't you stop? you're never leaving, never leave that far but now you've seen my cards would you say that i'm wrong? i'm not impressed; i'm not the only one and i cannot come along won't you please not come back we'll never be apart
i don't complain about the mess that you left inside my heart
won't you please not come back
don't tell it from the start you're never safe in the dark coz i'm coming down i've never seen you fall i always tried to tumble down the wall you've built around us all now i've tripped to your head i could have lied but i know what it's like to be dead though i'm still alive instead
won't you please not come back
well, i see you're feeling down when you hear this creepy sound so i have to be around...
