Blenders, Brother anyway

People of so many different cultures and so many languages

We stand amongst ourselves to stop this mad test

We work here as one and we know just what to do

And human nature it seeins does the rest.

We're all making dear friends here you know

Emotionally they're the closest friends we've got Cotnrminication works better with actions and expression not with words

In fact from each other nothing is ever caught.

You may not tinderstand what I say

That's O.K. that's O.K.

Cause I'm your brother anyway

And you're my brother anyway A nd you're my sister anyway

Our languages they're just so valuable

And of course we should never underestimate their worhth

But in mattets of the heart they can go unnoticed

Just like the love one nas for a baby at birth

If we discard our languages among our other distraction. Iten to eachotber we cannot lie

If we're true to eachother throught expression and actions

Just maybe we'll all get by.
