

BLIND, Divinely Beautiful

I draw from Your water of life
From the spring of Your salvation
You're all I want in heaven
You're all I want in earth
And here in Your presence
Oh how refreshing you are
Divinely Beautiful
Divinely Beautiful
You are so Beautifully Divine
You hold me hand tonight
And take me into glory's sight
Now I am still before You
I know that You are God
Your beauty shines forth on me
As praise springs from my heart
Words cannot express
But I will try with these
Divinely Beautiful
