Blind Guardian, And The Story Ends (Live)

And the story ends Insanity said coldly Still waiting for the chance So out of nowhere it will rise Oh, and another journey starts By the call of the moon

Was it really me I saw in the mirror screaming I swallowed hate and lies Through a thousand cries Someone's sucking out my energy

What can I do on this road to nowhere Heart of dragon lies at the edge of time

And the story ends Insanity said coldly Still waiting for the chance So out of nowhere it will rise Oh, and another journey starts Into insanity's claws

Come with me and join me A new life's waiting for you Jump through the mirror Leave fear behind No matter where I tried The candle light seemed Lost forever Before my vision fades - cathedral

- falling tears

We're not alone
There's someone else, too
From the mirror's other side
Reflecting the cruel part of your soul
It's time for your choice

What can I do on this road to nowhere Heart of dragon lies at the edge of time

And the story ends Insanity said coldly Still waiting for the chance So out of nowhere it will rise Oh, and another journey starts By the call of the moon

Heart of dragon lies

What can I do on this road to nowhere Heart of dragon lies at the edge of time

And the story ends Insanity said coldly Still waiting for the chance So out of nowhere it will rise Oh, and another journey starts Into insanity's claws

I'm not a king I'm just a bard How can I trust
If there's good or bad
The wounds of life
They will remain
At least I found a friend
