

BLIND, People

we try to turn the hands of time, anew mesmerized by everything thats haunting you the glow becomes a blinding light and when everyone will try to change your mind you know that no-ones gonna wake us from a dream people - show me your faith
take a look in the mirror break out - dont hide your face take a look into my eyes we pray for our salvation (or) come undone paralized by fear you drown all hands but one and everyone is burning out and the whole weight of the world feels dead and lame close the door before your life slips away
people - show me your faith
take a look in the mirror
break out - dont hide your face
take a look into my eyes
if you feel like youre down in a hole and youre restless, youre falling apart inside no-one will give you the answers to all of your questions we all have to grow inside so now tell me, why dont you wake?
people - show me your faith
take a look in the mirror
break out - dont hide your face
take a look into my eyes