

Blood Red Throne, Souls of Damnation

Denying life, life is lost words of wisdom, lead us not Of Darkness we are, from nothingness we became Strangle the flame of light, suffocation of Life Watch us how we fade

We wander alone, from here to oblivion Embraced by shadows, lead by the enchanter Enter our tomb to be, why wasn't we told?
a preacher's illusion, a dead man's word

Blinded vision, future divided, masses in awe salvation for the accused

"Come to me my children, let me lead you to forgiveness"

Leading his disciples to a certain death they enter cave so cold Close the gate and enter the world beyond Light will never be seen again

Trapped inside now, words will not feed Children cry, elders die Empty eyes, seduced minds you will never be free again

Life fading away, blood drained from veins feeding from the deceased unborn life will never be torn out, mothers weep
the prophetess proclaims yet another worthless pray

Time passes slow, dying illusions
A prophetess alone, all disciples gone
No more souls to reap harvester achieved
Once again darkness will feed...
