

Bobby Goldsboro, Watching Scotty Grow

Whenever He Holds You
Bobby Goldsboro
Take your little heart
Tear it all apart
Make the teardrops fall
>From your eyes
And you'll know how I feel
When he holds you
Whenever he holds you.
Pretend no one loves you
Make believe you're blue
And if you get an empty feeling deep inside
Then you'll know how I feel
When he holds you
Whenever he holds you.
My friends say forget you
I know I should try
But whenever he holds you, I feel I could die.
But if you ever find
That I'm still on your mind
Maybe you'll come back to my arms.
Till then I'll cry
When he holds you
Whenever he holds you
