

Bombay Bicycle Club, So Long, See You Tomorrow

When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come
You're packing up, packing up
I won't see you again
but you have made, you have made it up
When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come
When you reign it down lights come (You go round and round and round)
When you reign it down lights come (You go round and round and round)
When you reign it down lights come (You go round and round and round)
When you reign it down lights come (You go round and round and round)
You go round and round and round
You go round and round and round
You go round and round and round and round and round and round and round (I love you)
You go round and round and round
You go round and round and round and round
You go round and round and round and round and round and round and round (I love you)
I love you