Bon Jovi, Ain't no cure for love

Aint no cure for love Aint no cure for love

There aint no cure for love

Aint no cure

Cupid was a blind man

He must have missed his mark

Shot an arrow in the air and hit me in the heart

I went to see Saint Valentine

Said Whats come over me?

Daddy must have missed the chapter about the birds and bees

You can be the King of diamonds

You can cash in all your gold

You could hire Johnnie Cochran

Its too late to save your soul

Dont need no shot, no ambulance

Dont need prescription drugs

There aint no cure for love

They can find the cure for the common cold

When the pushing comes to shove

There aint no cure for love

Now someone call my lawyer

Im going to see my shrink

I found myself in the jewelry store buying a diamond ring

I went to see my doctor

Said Wont you help me please?

He said Son Im sorry, its a terminal disease

Cant get no love insurance

Cupid draws his bow

I aint waving boys, Im drowning

Its a damn good way to go

Dont need no shot, no ambulance

Dont need prescription drugs

There aint no cure for love

They can find the cure for the common cold

When the pushing comes to shove

There aint no cure for love

You can be the King of Diamonds

You can cash in all your gold

You can hire Johnnie Cochran

Its too late to save your soul

Dont need no shot, no ambulance

Dont need prescription drugs

There aint no cure for love

They can find the cure for the common cold

When the pushing comes to shove

There aint no cure for love

No aspirin

No ambulance

Or Voodoo you can think up

Aint no cure for love

There aint no cure for love

Aint no cure for love

Aint no cure for love
