

Bonfire, Home Babe

(Radio playing):

I've been praying every night ... just to have you back with me...

I close my eyes and I drink illusions
And sometimes I fade into a dream
You know, I can't wake up from this confusion
The empty bottle and the empty bed ... are all so real

Loving myself ... seems to be the hardest part, yeah
Trying to fight that feeling, I wanna be there for you

Everything will be alright when you're home baby - will be alright
You don't know how I'm missing you, now you're gone
Yeah yeah

I thought I had it all together
Can't understand where I went wrong, oh no
So many people tried to tell me
Don't turn yourself around because you're throwing it all away

Needing you ... seems to be my destiny
Feels like dying without you, set me free, yeah

Everything will be alright when you're home baby - will be alright
You don't know how I'm missing you, now you're gone
I've been praying every night ... just to have you back with me
I just wanna to hold you in my arms - yeah yeah yeah

Everything will be alright when you're home baby - will be alright
You don't know how I'm missing you, now you're gone
I've been praying every night ... just to have you back with me
I just wanna hold you in my arms - yeah yeah

Everything will be alright when you're home baby
You don't know how I'm missing you, now you're gone
I've been praying every night ... just to have you back with me
I just wanna hold you in my arms - yeah yeah yeah

Everything will be alright when you're home baby - will be alright
You don't know how I'm missing you, now you're gone
I've been praying every night ... just to have you back with me...
