

Bonobo, First Fires (Feat. Grey Reverend)

Now do you see it? The dream is gone
Fatal fire, moving on
Why do you need it in the ways to come
Over you, the undertone

Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again
Like the first fires
Run from fences, you don't have to pretend
First fires

And if you find it don't let go
For a time keep it going
Don't even fight it, the leaves fall
Fall for me, for every blow

Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again
Like the first fires
Run from fences, you don't have to pretend
First fires

And all the memories are calling me back
For the first fires
Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again
Like the first fires

Like the first fires

Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again
Honestly, I can't believe it's burning again
Like the first fires
