Bownik, As Good As Dead

Tonight I will stumble upon the fence, Every minute I get, I spent with you

I know you care for our love affair, but if you keep me outside you're as good as dead In my head We laugh instead, I've never been your pet, so take my filthy hand and lie down by the lake I'm ready

You're too bright to keep my eyes on you And it's free You're too bright to keep my eyes on you

And you're a trouble now Your papers torn into pieces We're far away, and down And you're a trouble now Your papers torn into pieces We're far away, far away, you're down

I know you care for our love affair but if you keep me outside you're as good as dead In my head We laugh instead, I've never been your pet, so take my filthy hand and lie down by the lake.

You're too bright to keep my eyes on you You're too bright to keep my eyes on you
