

Bratz, Lookin Good

Trouble seems to find me everywhere I go driving me insane about to blow out the window

I was bugging everyone I know digging me a little black hole I was so low unlock the door to get out I turn around

(I can see it now)

CHORUS

it wont make me cry its just anything illusion its a matter of time till I get it right its blowin my mind
this 21th century confusion aint no wonder why
its just a sign of the times you can feel misunderstood but from where Im standing thing are lookin good if you standing in the gutter in the pouring rain with all your makeup running down your face you,ve gone the wrong way there was on of two roads that I could take I didnt want to leave it up to fate I think im ok

it was burning me inside out and now I turn away (come and check this out)

la la la la la la la looking good la la la la la la la lookin real good la la la la la la la things are looking good lookin so good
