

Brenda Lee, Be My Love Again

Please come and walk with me please come and talk with me

Please be my love again

The way you smile makes my life worthwhile

(Oh honey) please be my love again

I could have died when you said goodbye now I realize you're the one for me

Come and walk with me please come and talk with me

Please be my love again

[sax]

I could have died...

Oh honey please be my love again
