

Brenda Lee, Castles In The Sand

Willed our love to last forever.
We both would always be together.
The dream was beautiful, the scheme was grand.
Born like the castles built of sand.
You'd wake me with a kiss so gently;
I'd thank the Lord for the man he'd sent me
We were so happy then, our life was planned.
Born like the castles built of sand

Sandcastles are only dreams
But our love is real.
And there ain't no use in talking
If you can't feel what I feel
I love you!
Before we lose our dreams completely,
Just hold me close and say you need me
We'll both try harder this time,
And our love will stand
Not like the castles built of sand.

We'll both try harder this time,
And our love will stand.
Not like the castles built of sand.
