Love is a state of grace Transcending time and space No other way I can describe Insanely beautiful Its almost mystical Cause youre mine And I cant believe that I feel What I feel Such a strange kind of real Love is a state of grace Between you and I Golden, broken I didnt know One touch could open My body and soul And weve just begun Like the moon and sun We fade to one Love is a state of grace Transcending time and space No other way I can describe Insanely beautiful Its almost mystical Cause youre mine And I cant believe that I feel What I feel Such a strange kind of real Love is a state of grace Between you and I And the way That we feel Is a dream That we know is real Love is a state of grace Love is a state of grace Love is a state of grace Transcending time and space No other way I can describe Insanely beautiful Its almost mystical Cause youre mine
