BROTHERS OF METAL, Chain Breaker

Dark and ancien whispers Evhoes through the night Tales of desolation As the end of time is drawing night

Bringer of destruction The wold is growing strong He was locked in godly chains Thet wouldn't last for long

The leash could not domesticate The violent beast within And when the bane of Odin howls The eternal night begins

When the twines that told him start to yield before his might The day will come when Skoll and Hati devours all our light
