

Bruce Springsteen, Addicted to Romance (from the film She Came to Me) - feat. Patti Scialfa

There's whiskey and it's water
And it's one last dance
Stranger pump that jukebox with your quarters
We all deserve a second chance

Darling let me tell you your future
Slip your palm into my hands
You've got me addicted to romance

Neon lights on the corner
The rumble of a tired rock-and-roll band
You're this neighborhood's broken daughter
With all the blessings that it grants

I'll tell you about this dream I had
If you tell me of your plans

You've got me addicted to romance

The night is sweet and long, my dear
Though the end's always at hand
My muse, the music you whispered in my ear
Reminds me of who I am
Reminds me of who I am
Reminds me of who I am

Love's a cold beer
You near and a kiss
Your sweet and tender hands
Tonight I get all the love that I missed
From you in just one glance

And if this isn't love, my dear
It's more than what we planned
It's more than just chance

You've got me addicted to romance
You've got me addicted to romance
You've got me addicted to romance
