

Byfist, Universal Metal

Crank up the Marshalls, hot tubes amplified
Fists in the air, metal horns unified
Heavy metal kicking ass worldwide

From all social classes, we gather as one
Hey, hey, hey, metal for everyone
North, south, west and to the rising sun

Universal metal, has fused us through the years
Universal metal, for all the world to hear

Moshers make circles, so fast with their feet
Smashing their bodies, reverse and repeat
Banging their heads, enslaved to the driving beat

Patches are sewn onto many a vest
Filled with the names of the bands they like best
Black leather jackets worn at every fest

Universal heavy metal
You are, universal heavy metal
We are, universal heavy metal
We all are, universal heavy metal

Screaming heavy metal, all we want to hear
Loud, raging thunder, music to our ears
Heavy metal inside, heavy metal out
Got that metal fever, what we're all about

In cold winter nights, our souls are still on fire
Flames burning higher, making music like a choir
Ultimate experience, seems we get possessed
When we play music we love the best
