

Camero Cat, Tea Song

"I brought some water for small tea it's really enough, if you know what I mean
I say today is tonight, it's really here! This rain, these thunders, this atmosphere!
I'd like to talk, talk about things, which are the plot, which really mean
You're sitting here, on this old chair and wondering that there is no spare
So rubbish!

Snap out dear Cat! I've got something!
So, and really, worth listening, you'll be delighted 'cause this is great!
You know already song with number 8; but wait!
First of all, what was said firstly, let's make two cups of this black tea!
You see... hihihi... you see... pararam pam pampararam...

Sitting here, feeling no fear about what will happen next
It's not clear but honestly we know it's going fast
The night outside is rather dread and brings some diverse news!
From time to time it's our muse..."
