

Camila Cabello, The Exchange

Came across a picture
Of you and her were lying
See looks to you like [?]
Knows that what I had in mind
I'm wrapped in his arms
Feeling perfectly alone
But I've always been a mix because I wishes him are yours

Come closer, closer
Darling, I thought I would faint
Let me whisper, whisper
So that you can understand
[?] from head to toe
Only will know, only will know

I think we should drink
If you could told me he was drunk that day
So we shot the arrows the wrong way
I heard him say

I think we should trade
Well, tell him let's go on a double date
And meet us up at six in the cafe
We'll run away
And call it the exchange

Blink as if it's true
We've been thinking about you
[?] and tell me that you do
Come closer, closer
Darling, I thought I would faint
Let me whisper, whisper
So that you can understand
We'll be [?] all back from head to toe
Only will know, only will know

I think we should trade
If you could told me he was drunk that day
So we shot the arrows the wrong way
I heard him say

Now that you know, you know, you
There's nothing like me in you, me in you, me in you
You've been trying to say it ain't true, but it starving me how [?] know you, know you
There's nothing like you
And you've been trying to say it ain't true
Now that you know, you know, you
There's nothing like me in you, me in you, me in you
You've been trying to say it ain't true, but it starving me how
There's nothing like me in you

I think we should trade
Well, tell him we'll go on a double date
And meet us up at six in the cafe
We'll run away

When you say we run away
We'll call it the exchange
