

Candy Girl, Crazy

It's getting late
Your time is up
I'm really bored little sad
What happened with world which I just knew

We all want to something
Even if there's no way to get it I don't care
I believe in my life will break every rule

Where are the hopes, where are the dreams?
Remember the purpose, teenage dreams
I'm sick of that shit take my hand and jump

I'm gonna get crazy just for a while
You better be ready
I'll take you there now
I promise we'll not be wasting the time,
No wasting time
Let me here you scream my name as before
I'm gonna get crazy just for while
You should come
and find yourself
like as before

My heart will be beat for two I know
Please hear me I'm calling come into my world
Want to wake with the full moon as in a dream

Want to taste every moment in my life
I don't want to miss anything or get lost
It's a way to be lost and found again

Where are the hopes, where are the dreams?
Remember the purpose, teenage dreams

I'm gonna get crazy just for a while
You better be ready
I'll take you there now
I promise we'll not be wasting the time,
No wasting time
Let me here you scream my name as before
I'm gonna get crazy just for while
You should come
and find yourself
like as before

Hey baby, scream my name
What's my name
My, name
Scream my name as before
