Cat Power, Manhattan

The hotel above and the street below People come and people go All the friends that we used to know

Ain't coming back Ain't coming back Ain't coming back

See your heart has a rhythm Well see you got your secret on You say hey and nothing to hide You and your secret life

Don't look at the moon tonight You'll never be never be never be Manhattan Don't look at the moon tonight You can never be never be never be Manhattan

With your badge and your suitcase on Your suit and your hair's not right Cause nobody knows this woman by your side

It's not me you know, it's the useful woman by your side It's not me you know, it's a useful woman by your side Manhattan

See your heart has a rhythm Well see you got your secret on She say hey and nothing to hide You and your secret life

Don't look at the moon tonight You'll never be never be Manhattan Don't look at the moon tonight You can never be never be never be Manhattan

See your heart has a rhythm You got your secret on And you say you got nothing to hide You, you, you and your secret life

You'll never be never be never be Manhattan Hollerin' at me hollerin' at you Hollerin' at me hollerin' at you

Don't look at the moon tonight You'll never be never be Manhattan Don't look at the moon tonight You can never be never be never be Manhattan
