There's lilt in the song I sing there's laughter and love
G A G D
There's tang from the sea and blue from heaven above,
A D G D A
Of reason there's none but why should there be but one,
G D G A
As long as there's fire in the blood and light in the eye.

D G D
And whether the blood be highland or lowland or no.
G A G D
And whether the skin be black or white as the snow,
A D G D A
Of kith and of kin we're one be it right be it wrong
G D G A
as long as our voices join this chorus of song.
